PERSONAL PROFILE

I have always taken great pleasure in ensuring that expectations placed upon me are met and exceeded. I am a great team player but also am capable of working under my own initiative and taking the lead when necessary. I am a very fast learner and take little time to get comfortable with new tasks. My ability to dissemble the bigger picture in its main building blocks allows me to analyze a complex situation in a broken down scenario and tackle the root cause of problem, paying attention to details and not losing sight of the situation as a whole. My working experience allows me to relate to a very diverse spectrum of people.
